ARTEMIS

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration's (NASA) published the outline for its Artemis program, which plans to send the next man and first woman to the lunar surface by the year 2024.

The last time NASA sent humans to the Moon was in 1972, during the Apollo lunar mission.

ARTEMIS

With the Artemis program, NASA wishes to demonstrate new technologies, capabilities and business approaches that will ultimately be needed for the future exploration of Mars.

It stands for Acceleration, Reconnection, Turbulence, and Electrodynamics of the Moon's Interaction with the Sun.

The program is divided into three parts:

Artemis I is most likely to be launched 2021 and involves an uncrewed flight to test the Space Launch System (SLS) and Orion spacecraft.

Artemis II will be the first crewed flight test and is targeted for 2023.

Artemis III will land astronauts on the Moon's South Pole in 2024.

Chandrayaan

The Chandrayaan project began in 2007 with an agreement between India's space agency ISRO and Russia's ROSCOSMOS for mutual cooperation.

However, the mission was postponed in January 2013 and rescheduled to 2016 as Russia was unable to develop the lander on time.

Findings: Confirmed presence of lunar water.
Evidence of lunar caves formed by an ancient lunar lava flow.

Chandrayaan

Past tectonic activity was found on the lunar surface. The faults and fractures discovered could be features of past interior tectonic activity coupled with meteorite impacts.

Chandrayaan-2 is India's second mission to the moon and comprises a fully indigenous Orbiter, Lander (Vikram) and Rover (Pragyan).

The Rover Pragyan is housed inside Vikram lander. The Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) recently announced India's third lunar mission Chandrayaan-3, which will comprise a lander and a rover.
